What is this type of insurance?

What is insured?

- ✓ This Gap Insurance policy will pay the difference between either the vehicle insurance settlement at the point of total loss and the invoice price paid for your vehicle.

If you purchased your vehicle under a finance agreement (except where the policy is transferred) and the early settlement amount at the point of total loss is greater than the original invoice price, this Insurance will pay the difference between the vehicle insurance settlement and the early settlement amount.
